Vaginal dryness kills libido – no woman like the thought of having sex – if pain and no pleasure is guaranteed.

The vagina is one of the body's most amazing parts and should be treated with utmost care. Lubrication is often recommended when women experience dryness and pain. It remains important to use a product that treats the vagina with the necessary respect. Le Lube is a product like that. Le Lube has been formulated to enhance the vaginal environment and to protect it, while providing satisfying lubrication that will bring back pleasure to women's sex life. This product complies with the standards specify by the WHO – I always suggest to women: if you use lubrication, make it count!
